Ahoy shipmates! Come and sail the ocean blue with MOS this spring on the HMS Pinafore as we perform Gilbert & Sullivan's ever-popular comic tale of forbidden love and class snobbery with absurd twists of fate.

Captain's daughter Josephine and lowly sailor Ralph love each other - but can their class differences be overcome, or will Josephine be forced to marry the pompous Sir Joseph Porter, ruler of the Queen's navy? With the much-loved songs "When I Was A Lad" and "A British Tar" the show is filled with uplifting and joyful music and a shipload of satire on the British class system.

Book now - you'll be all at sea if you miss it!

There is a £1 per ticket discount on full price tickets for groups of 10 or more, paid in advance of show week.
